New York, NY, November 1, 2021 – On Sunday, October 24th, ArchCare, the Archdiocese of New York's healthcare system that every day cares for more than 9,000 seniors, the poor and persons with special needs, sponsored the Team Hope Walk, a fundraising event for the Huntington's Disease Society of America.

Pictured: Alicia O'Keefe, Program Coordinator at ArchCare, and Jodi Sivulich, Director of Admissions at ArchCare, attended to set up a booth on behalf of Ferncliff. Sister Mary Anne assisted in this effort by sharing information on Parish Integration and ArchCare at Home services to those in attendance.

Despite the weather, community members gathered to walk at the fundraising event in support of those impacted by Huntington's Disease. Staff and volunteers from ArchCare at Ferncliff Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center made up the "Ferncliff Champions Team," representing ArchCare at the event. In addition, an ArchCare booth provided information about the system's robust range of programming, including the Center for Advanced Memory Care at ArchCare at Ferncliff, which is slated to open later this year.

"The Huntington's Disease Society of America aligns squarely with our mission at ArchCare, in particular the focus on strength and hope in the face of adversity," said Michelle Feller, Assistant Administrator at Ferncliff Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center. “We are proud to be a part of the Hudson Valley community, and it is truly a privilege for us to connect with our neighbors at events such as the Team Hope Walk.”
