ARCHCARE EXPANDS NETWORK OF CARE WITH MONTEFIORE HEALTH SYSTEM

New York, NY, March 31, 2021 – ArchCare, the Archdiocese of New York’s healthcare system that every day cares for more than 9,000 seniors, the poor and persons with special needs, today announced a formal partnership with Montefiore Health System in which its physicians and other members of their clinical care teams will work alongside ArchCare’s Program for All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) team to provide high-quality, at-home healthcare for eligible patients.

PACE is a nationally recognized model of care designed for people age 55 or older who require nursing-home-level care but would rather receive it at home or in the community. The program, which accepts Medicare and Medicaid, fulfills a vital element of ArchCare’s mission to create an environment that holds in esteem the life and dignity of every individual. PACE focuses on helping seniors live better, keeping them independent while improving their health, wellness, and mental being.

ArchCare’s PACE division, called Senior Life, consists of a multidisciplinary team working in partnership to improve every aspect of participants’ care. This team includes a physician, nurse, social worker, care manager, physical therapist and dietician. The health care provided covers a holistic suite of services to include primary and specialty care, rehabilitation, recreation and medical transportation.

“ArchCare’s PACE program has achieved tremendous success delivering comprehensive, coordinated care in our communities, and was especially effective in safely treating patients throughout the COVID pandemic, as an alternative for nursing home eligible individuals who prefer to remain in their homes while receiving the services they require,” said Scott LaRue, President and Chief Executive Officer of ArchCare. “We’re focused on future growth of the program and thrilled to be the first partnership of this kind in the state, with a group of physicians that match our commitment to holistic, dignified care, from a system as respected as Montefiore.”

Montefiore Health System is a premier New York health system providing coordinated, comprehensive care to approximately 3 million people across the Bronx, Westchester and the Hudson Valley when and where they need it most.
